CUT

STEP BY STEP

Create a dividing line from ear to ear and through the apex.

Next create a diagonal parting that goes from the apex to the outer point of the left eyebrow.

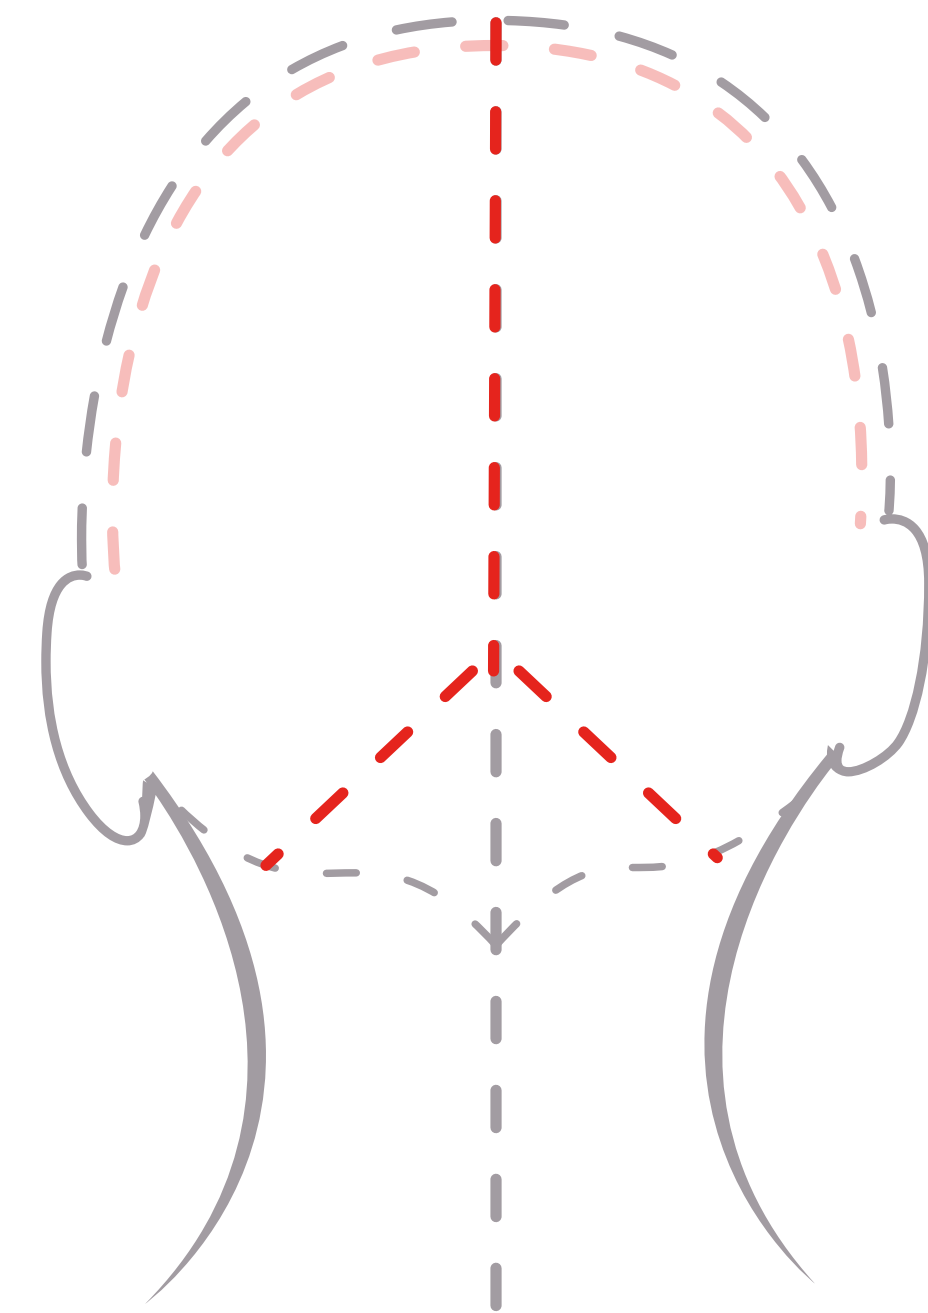

CUT

STEP BY STEP

Create a central section from the apex to the occipital protuberance.

Proceed by creating two symmetrical, diagonal forward dividing lines from the occipital protuberance to behind the ears (at the earlobe).

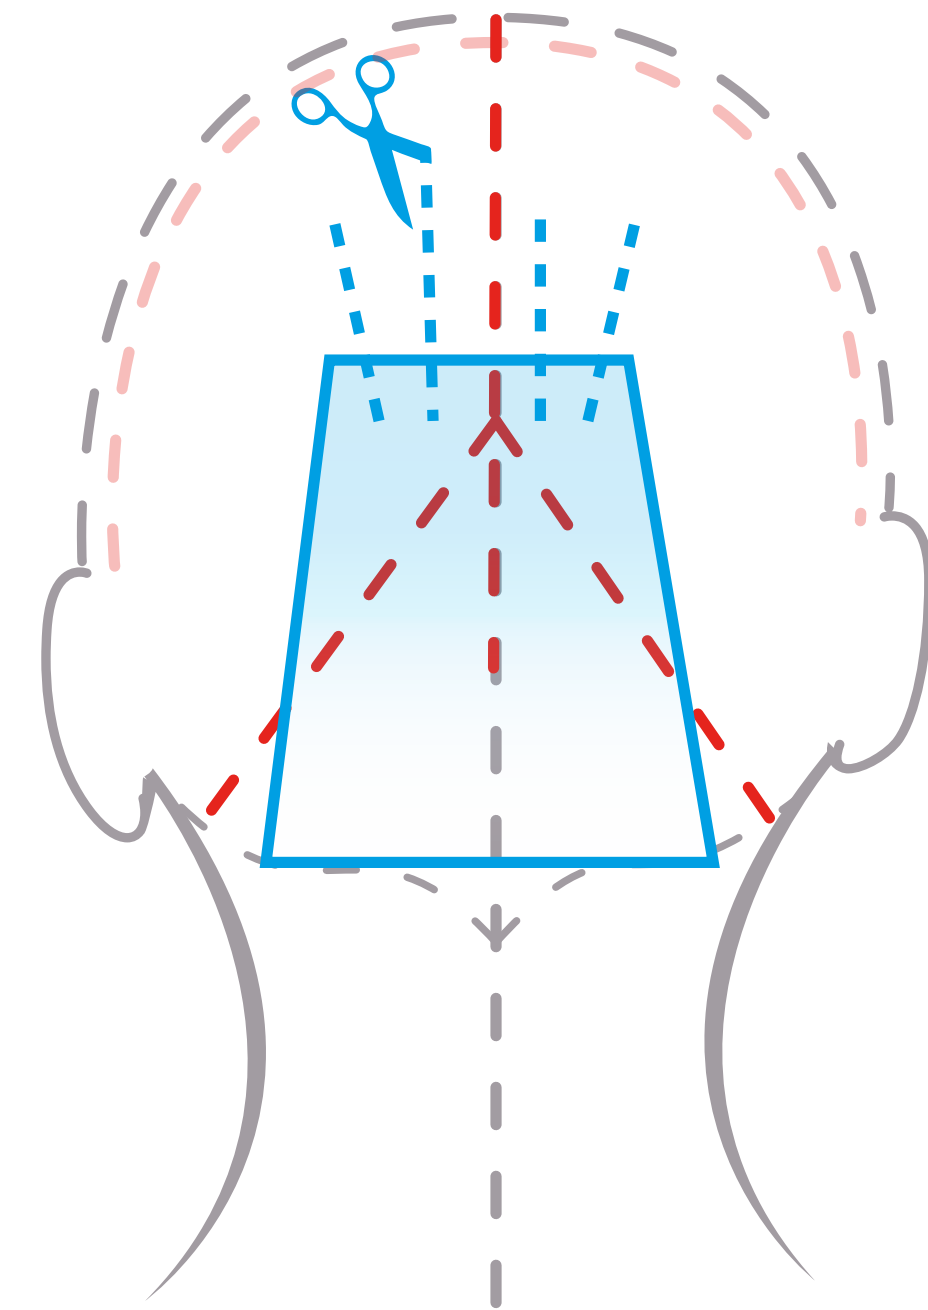

CUT

STEP BY STEP

Starting from the nape (triangle), carry all the hair to the occipital protuberance in a single strand.

Cut using the point cutting technique with a horizontal cutting line.

CUT

STEP BY STEP

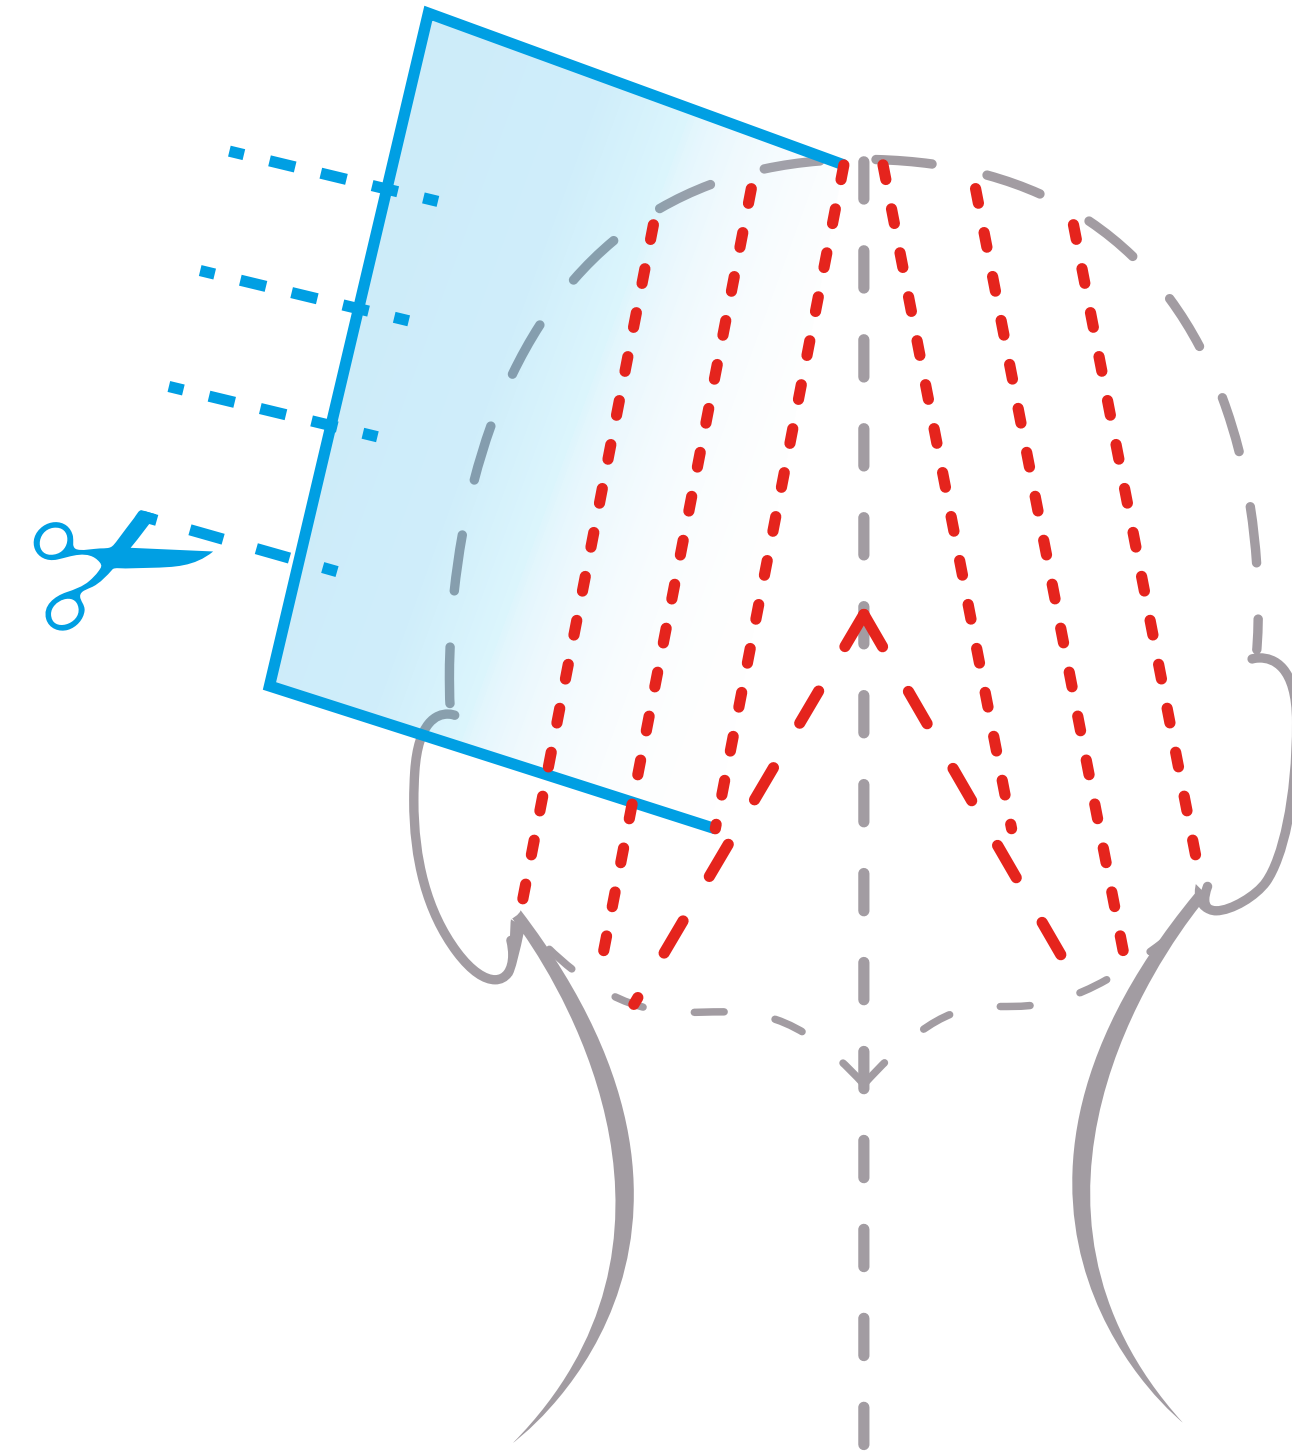

Thin and texturize the perimeter of the nape using the point cutting technique.

CUT

STEP BY STEP

In the remaining back area, start from one side and create diagonal forward sections at 60° , no more than 1 cm thick.

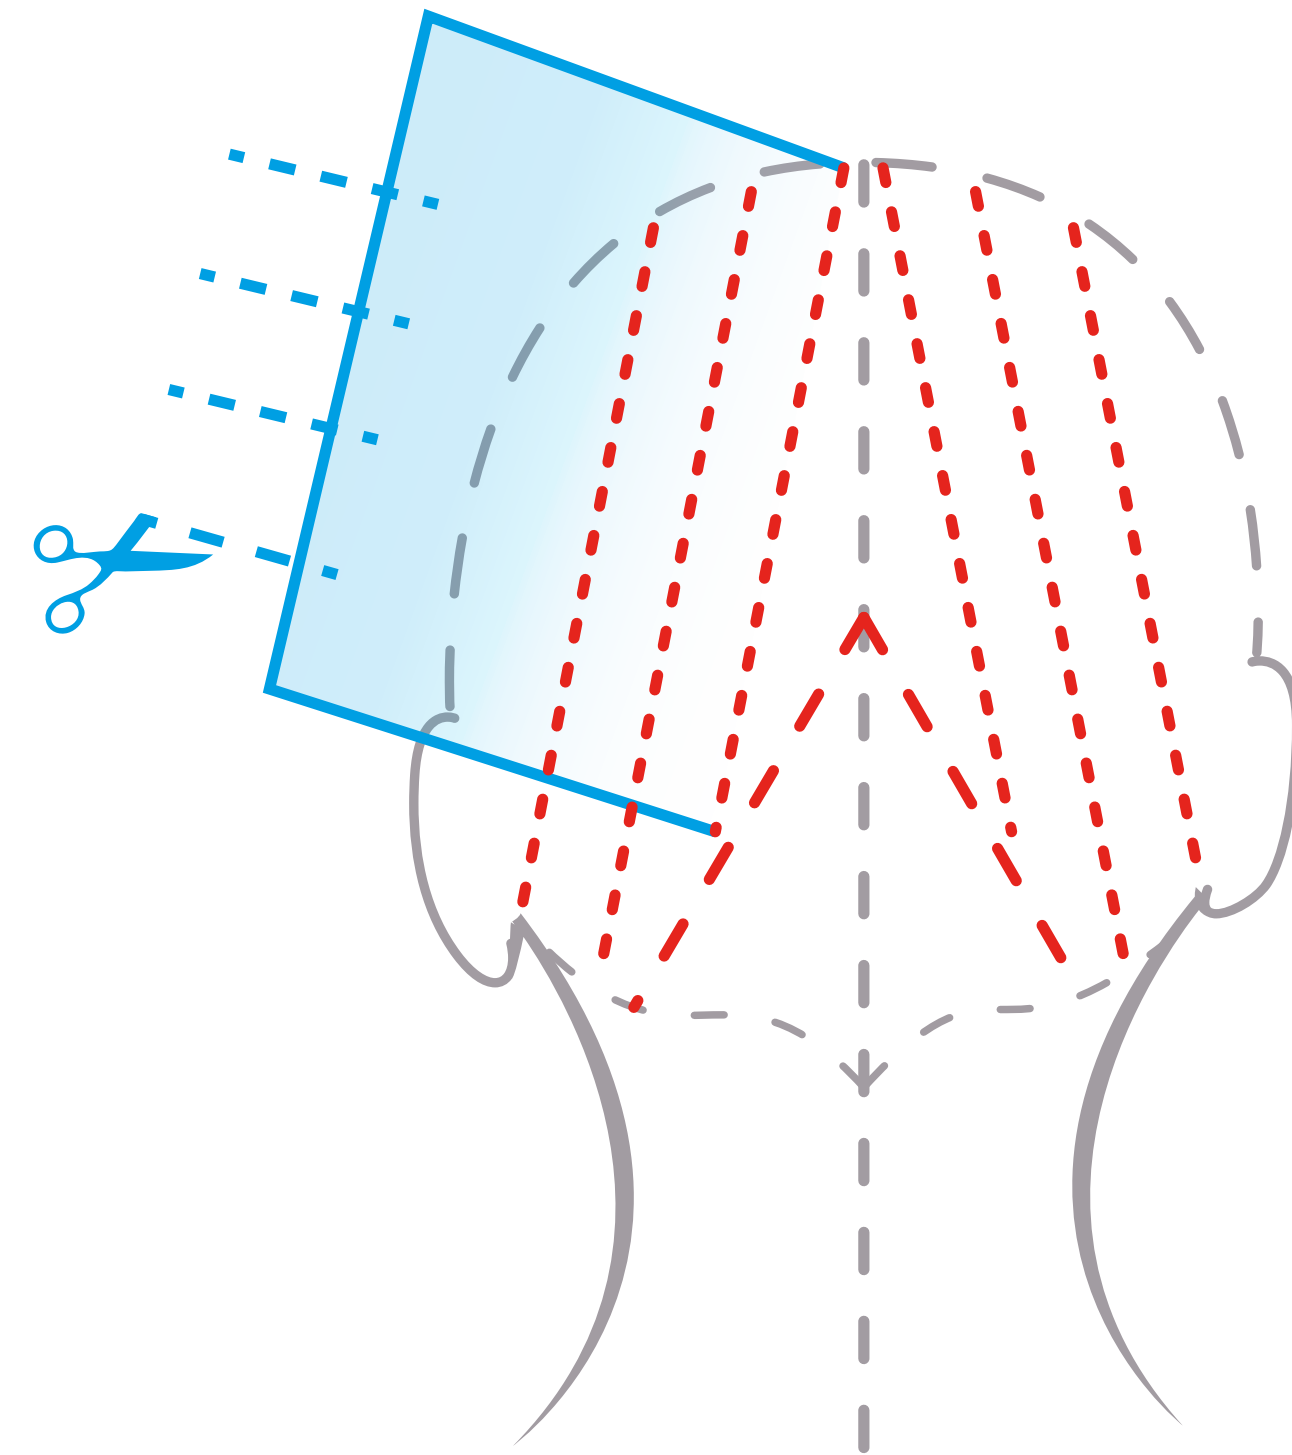

CUT

STEP BY STEP

Cut while following the base section diagonal, using the point cutting technique, taking the previously cut length in the occipital protuberance as the reference point and proceed using a multiple guide line.

Repeat the same cut symmetrically along the other back side, keeping the same angle and sections.

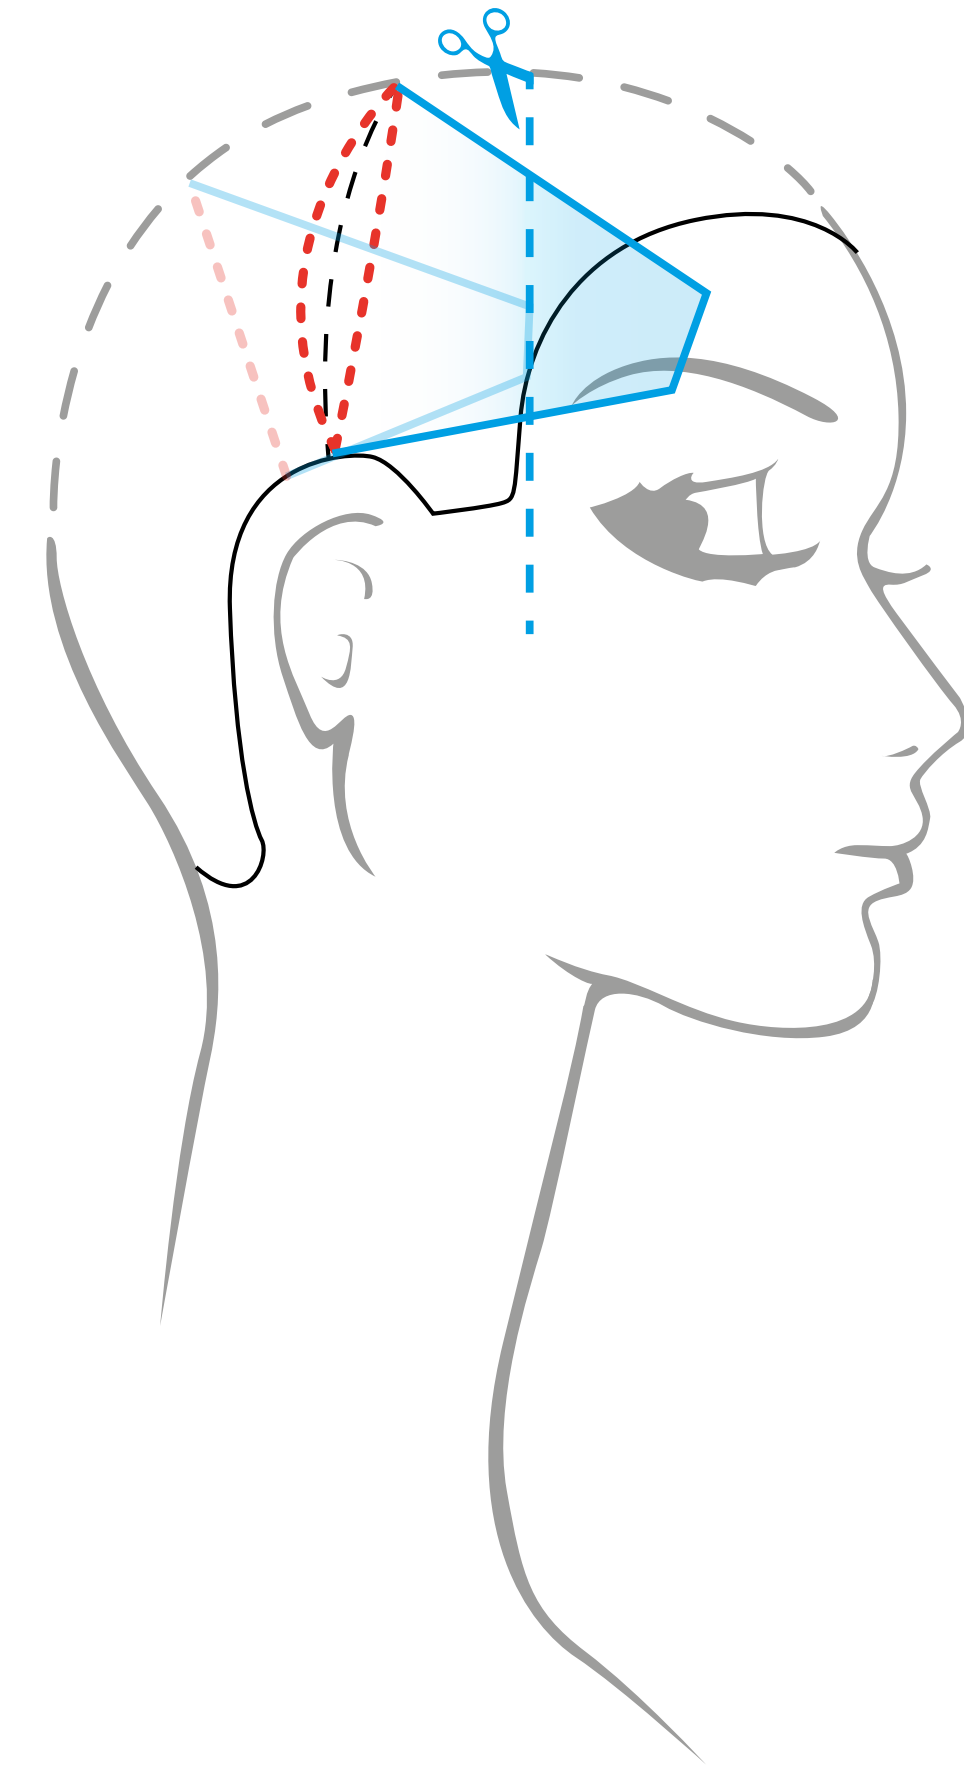

CUT

STEP BY STEP

While following the previous diagonal section, isolate the fringe (to be worked on later).

Starting on one side, take sections, no more than 1 cm thick, parallel to the previous ear-to-ear section.

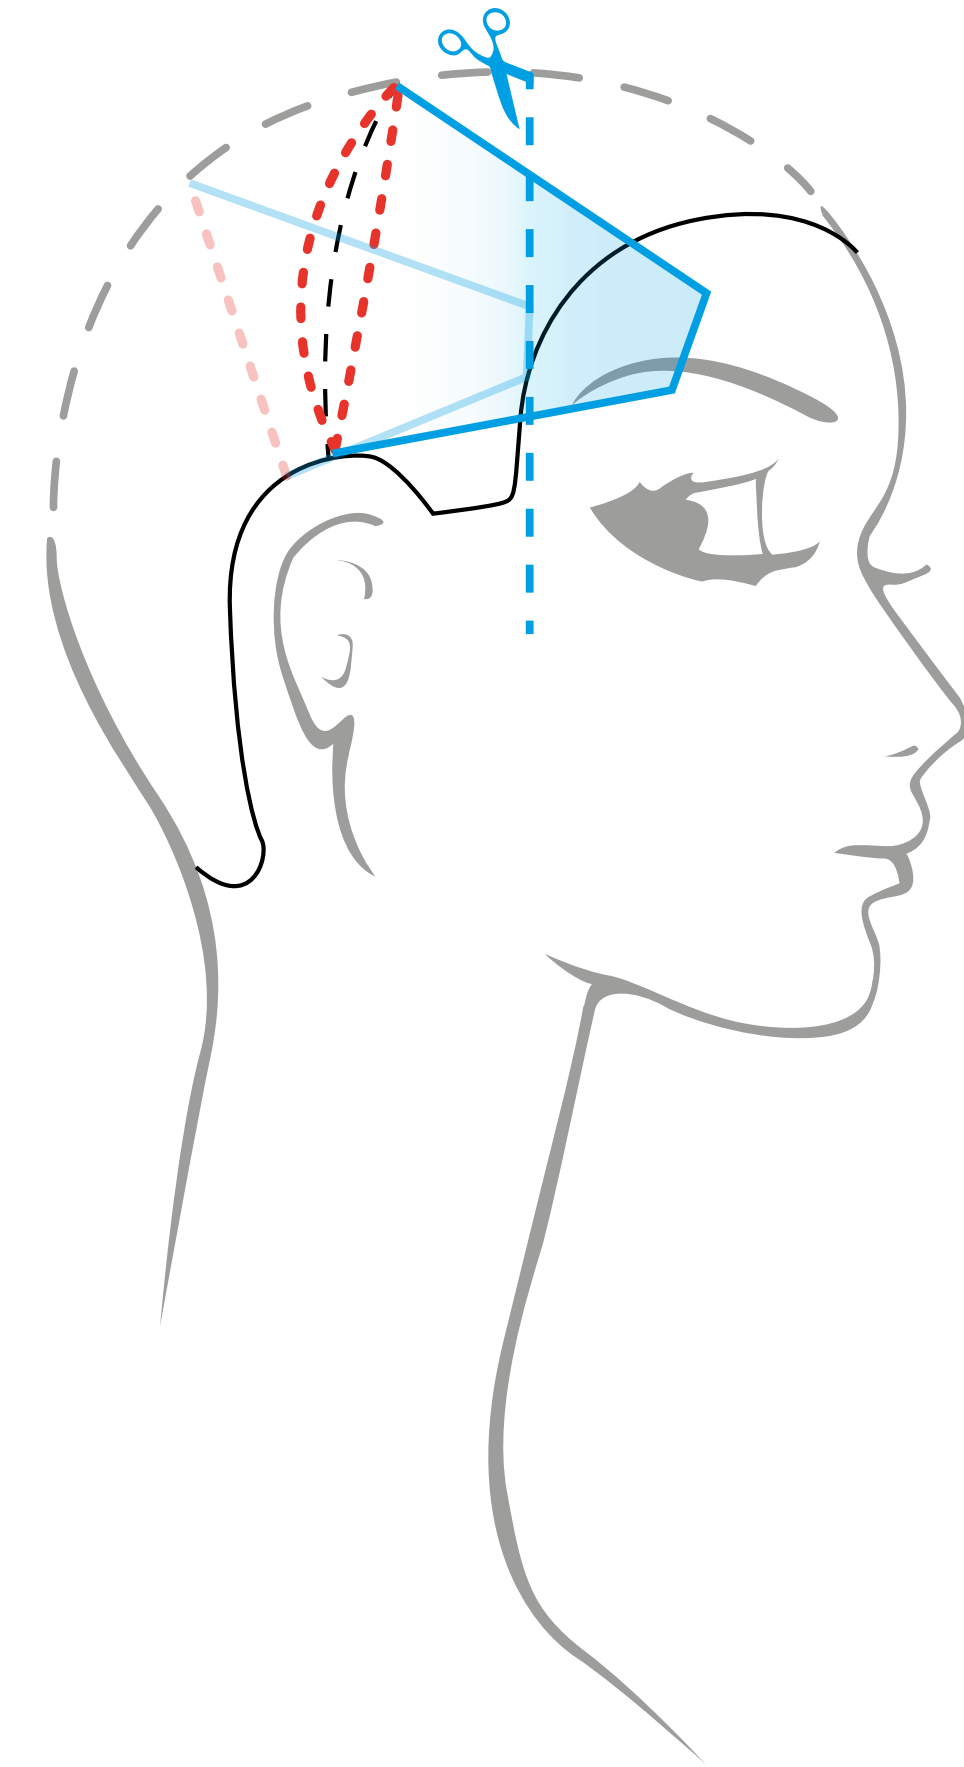

CUT

STEP BY STEP

Cut with a mobile guide line using the point cutting technique and taking the length of the last cut strand in the back area as the reference point and projecting the strands outwards, keeping them perpendicular to the hairline.

Repeat the same cut symmetrically along the other front side, keeping the same angle and sections.

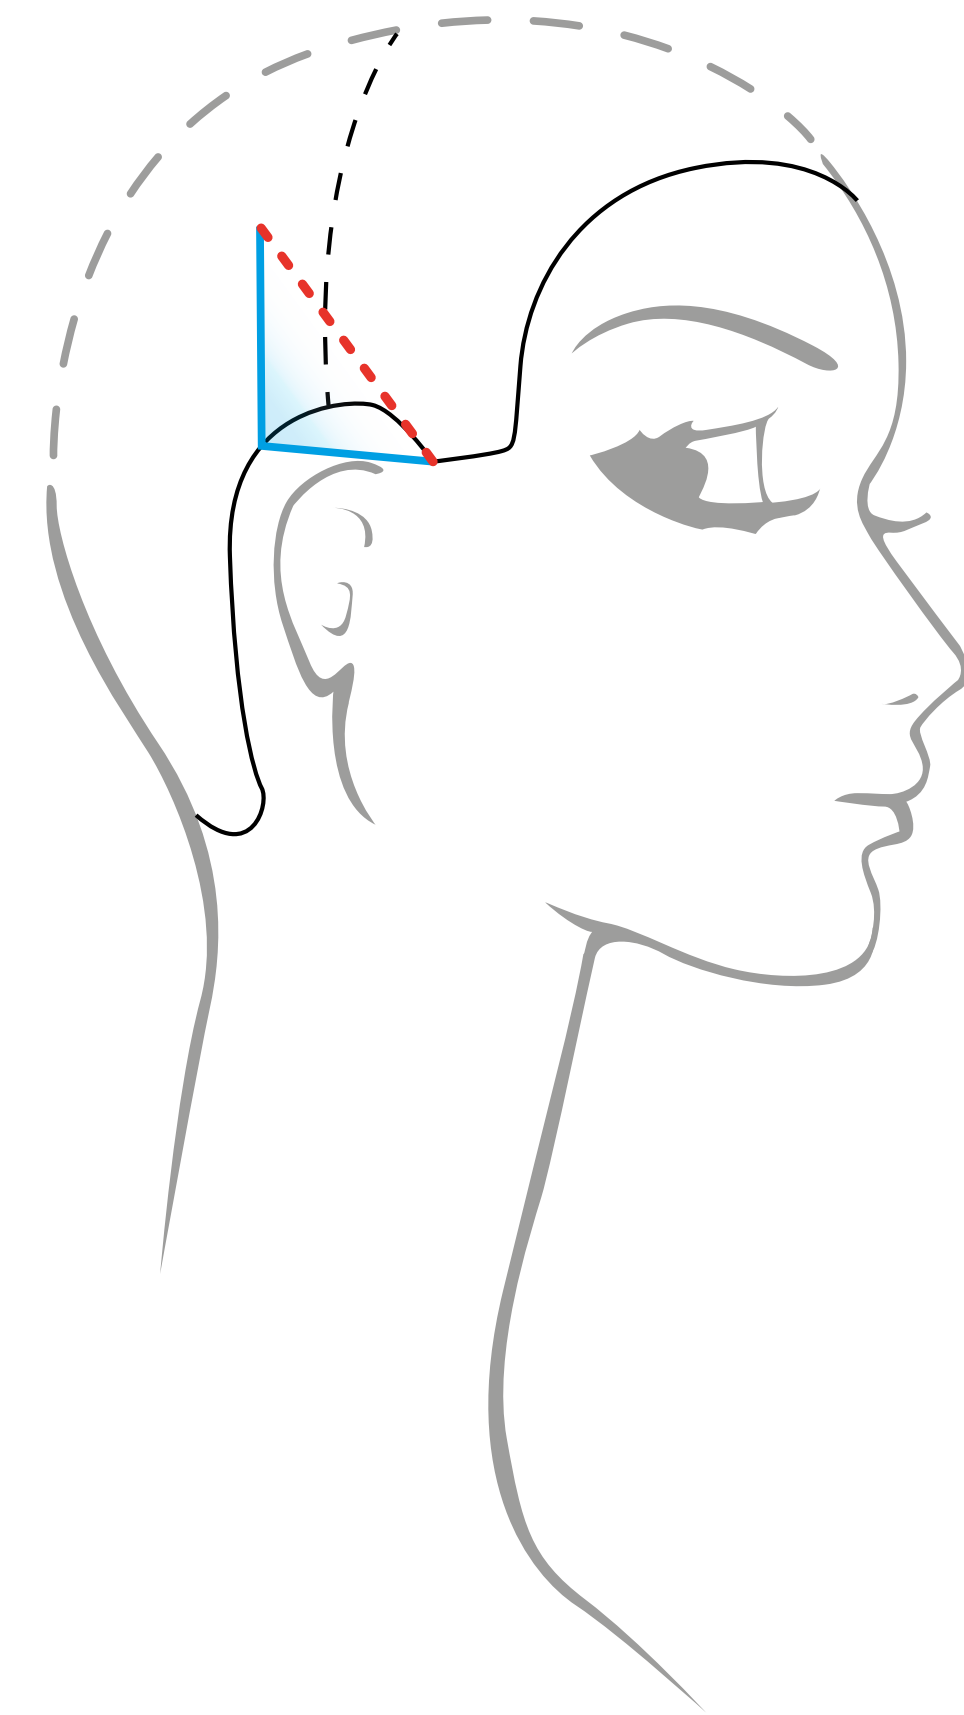

CUT

STEP BY STEP

To add a stylish, deconstructed detail to the cut, isolate the first strand at the sideburn and cut it using the club cutting technique with a clean forward diagonal at 45°, leaving a maximum length of 3 cm.

Do the same on the other side, creating a slight asymmetry, if desired.

CUT

STEP BY STEP

Carry the fringe onto the ear-to-ear section line in a single strand and cut using the point cutting technique.
